

BORAH ASKS BIG CUT IN ARMY; NAVY

Says Drastic Reductions Must Be Made in Order to Cut Expense and Reduce Taxes

WANTS MILITARY REDUCED TO BARE 100,000 MEN

Would Dismiss Half Officers and Stop Navy Building Program

WASHINGTON, D. C.—As a result of Secretary of Treasury Mellon's recommendation for increased taxation the senate Friday rescinded with a vote of 71 to 20 the bill for tightening the government purse strings to a degree never before contemplated in the economy program.

Senator Borah, Idaho, who precipitated the debate, called for the cooperation of the administration in carrying out the most drastic economies yet suggested to restore governmental expenditures to "normalcy." He outlined these economies broadly in the following manner:

Reduce the enlisted strength of the army to 100,000 men, effecting a saving of $75,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Suspend battleship construction, at least until revised designs can be prepared as a result of the recent bombing experiments; saving approximately $240,000,000.

Wants Rhine Troops Back

Withdraw the 14,000 American troops now maintained in Germany at an expense of about $1,000,000 monthly.

Cut the number of army officers about one-half, reducing the outlay for the pay of commissioned personnel about $50,000,000.

Dismiss all reserve officials and clerks in the government employ.

Senator McKellar, Tennessee, Democrat, called attention to the fact that the British house of commons had just authorized four new superdreadnoughts, and inquired whether this action augured well for results at the coming disarmament conference. Mr. Borah replied that the British could not be greatly blamed as long as the United States persisted in the building of sixteen new battleships, but agreed that it did not furnish a favorable prospect for the conference.

Both Chiefs Discourage World

"The statement of the British premier that they would go ahead with this construction was somewhat discouraging," Senator Borah said. "Equally discouraging was the statement of our secretary of the navy, that we would go on building our battleships regardless of the coming conference. In other words, we are all to go into the conference armed to the teeth."

"We might as well realize now that disarmament will never be brought about by diplomats. When they gather around the conference table, the same things will happen that happened at Versailles, unless public opinion thoroughly aroused and vigorously sustained, compels action."

Senator Borah declared that to increase taxation now would be "almost a disaster," while merely to fail to reduce taxes would be "deplorable."

Only Way to Cut Taxes

"There is only one way to reduce taxation, and that is to reduce expenditures," he said. "And there are only two places where any very substantial economies can be made—the army and navy. If we are not willing to reduce there, we may as well say to the country right now there is no hope of tax reduction."

"If we increase taxation and at the same time do not reduce the size of the army, you can depend on it that the Republican majority in both houses will be considerably reduced in the next election. As a party we simply cannot afford to permit an increase in taxation."

The Republican party, he continued, was solemnly pledged to withdraw the troops from Germany at the earliest possible moment.

The recent bombing experiments of the Virginia capes demonstrated that America was spending $240,000,000 on naval construction "in a way that will never add any security to Americans," Senator Borah declared.

New Ships to Be Obsolete

"The battleships we are building will be obsolete by the time they are completed," he asserted.

Senator Jones, Washington, Republican, said he had witnessed the bombing tests and told the senate that naval officers regarded it as a "1,000 to 1 shot" that the aircraft would sink the dreadnaught Ostfriesland, yet they sent it to the bottom in less than half an hour after the real attack was made. Senator McKellar, however, doubted whether such results could be obtained in actual warfare.

As a vehicle for his remarks, Senator Borah introduced a resolution to reduce the army to 100,000 men. It was referred to the military affairs committee.

GOVERNOR TO RETURN TO ILLINOIS CAPITAL NEXT WEEK; WILL BE ARRESTED

CHICAGO, Ill.—Governor Len Small announced here Saturday that he would return to Springfield Tuesday. The governor said he would postpone his good roads tour until Friday of next week in order to return to the capitol.

The governor issued the following statement: "So that my traders shall not be permitted, through their newspaper mouthpieces, to misrepresent my official course in performing my duties as governor I shall not resume my good roads tour until Friday of next week."

"I expect to finish my official business here Saturday and shall be in Springfield Tuesday morning."

It has been announced that as soon as the governor returns to Springfield he will be arrested on indictments charging him with embezzlement of state funds while state treasurer, in which office he served before becoming governor. The sheriff of Sangamon county refused to send warrants to Chicago or to seek the governor's arrest there, declaring that he would wait until the executive returned to the capitol.

The governor has been in Chicago and on his road tour since a court decision was handed down denying his claim that as governor he was immune from arrest.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Sheriff Henry Mester, when informed of Governor Small's statement announcing his intention to return to Springfield next Tuesday, said he believed the governor will appear and give bond. If the governor does not appear he will probably be notified by telephone before any action is taken, the sheriff said.

CHICAGO HIGHWAY OFFICIAL HERE TO INSPECT STREETS

Superintendent of Public Highways of Chicago Enthusiastic Over Work Here

WILL USE THE SAME METHOD ON STREETS IN THE BIG CITY

Gravel and Heavy Oil Treatment Pronounced Success

That the street improvement system employed in the city of La Crosse has met with the approval of officials of larger cities was manifest Friday when Tom Burns, superintendent of public highways of the city of Chicago, here inspecting the street improvement work with a view to learning methods of resurfacing Chicago streets, declared that in his opinion the problem of reclaiming worn macadam streets had been solved in the method used here.

Mr. Burns was accompanied by William Malone, president of the Illinois Petroleum Products company and assured local officials that a similar program of street improvement would be employed in Chicago. The Chicago official immediately became enthusiastic over the pace of the work carried on here and declared that he would attempt to install an amount of similar work on Chicago streets this year.

WASHINGTON HOLDS DATE PRACTICALLY SETTLED FOR MEET

Start at Once on Arrangement of Program and Topics for the Conference

WASHINGTON, D. C.—That the disarmament conference to which President Harding has invited all of the great powers will be held on Armistice day, November 11, was regarded as practically certain on Friday, when it was reported that Japan has accepted the date suggested by the United States.

Word was received by the state department on Friday evening that the date was acceptable to France. The only major power not yet heard from on the question is Italy, and her reply is expected shortly.

England Agreeable

England accepted the date several days ago, after waiving a proposal put forward by premier of the British dominions that the conference be held later, and he proceeded by a preliminary meeting in the United States or Canada at which the British empire and America could discuss certain points. The United States opposed this preliminary conference suggestion, and Britain announced that any date agreeable to the other powers would be satisfactory to her for the general disarmament.

With the date believed settled, interchanges will probably be commenced at once between the powers to arrange the agenda and program of the council.

Japan Agrees

TOKIO.—By The Associated Press.—Japan has agreed to November 11 as the date for the beginning of the disarmament conference in Washington as suggested by the United States according to this morning's newspapers.

GUARDSMEN BACK FROM CAMP AFTER TWO WEEKS THERE

Three La Crosse Commands Have Enjoyable and Profitable Outing at Douglas

Battery D came home with the proud distinction of being proclaimed the most efficient command in the 120th Field Artillery. The La Crosse battery was accorded the honor of being named as escort to the colors because of this fact.

Tanned by the sun and wind and in fine physical condition after two weeks headful outdoor life and exercise, La Crosse national guardsmen came home from Camp Douglas Saturday morning. Officers and men alike voted it a fine outing and an instructive session of camp.

La Crosse commands which on trained at Camp Douglas at 8:30 and arrived here at 11 included Battery D and the headquarters battery 120th Field Artillery and the medical detachment of the same command.

"I can hike thirty miles now and never get an eye-lid," said one corporal when asked how he enjoyed camp life.

HIRST AND HIGHWAY ORGANIZATION WILL BE HELD TOGETHER

Chief and Principal Assistants to Stay Despite Lack of Funds Says Commission

MANY EXPERIENCED MEN WILL HAVE TO BE LET GO

Says Wisconsin Will Lose Most of Season of 1923

MADISON, Wis.—The state will retain A. R. Hirst, chief engineer, at the head of its highway work of the coming year together with practically all of the principal engineers, commission Saturday says. This announcement, signed by W. O. Holch-Kiss, secretary, declares further that failure of the last legislature to pass the highway privilege tax bill means disruption of road work in 1923.

"State and county funds are now provided for by law to meet federal aid work to be done in 1921 and 1922, but before the legislature of 1923 can provide further funds the construction season of 1923 will have passed by," according to the statement.

Many Experts to go

"This means the loss not only of one year's work on federal aid construction. The highway commission has for ten years been building up an efficient, experienced force of engineers and with failure of federal aid in 1923 it will become necessary to drop many of these experienced men. We confidently believe that the legislature of 1923 will provide for an extension of road work by taxes to be collected in 1924, but the work will be seriously handicapped by the fact that we will then have to build up a new force with many men of little experience."

"The past legislature made no provision for continuing an appropriation to meet federal aid, consequently, it will take more money to meet federal aid than will remain of automobile license fees after obligatory payments have been made."

"This will leave the state able to take only a fraction of its share of federal aid and will leave no state funds to continue the patrol system of maintaining our highways, the success of which has made Wisconsin's roads famous."

Some Counties Overloaded

"Many of the less wealthy counties are already over-burdened by being required under the law to pay one-third of the cost of federal aid construction. Recommendation of the highway commission to change this law was not accepted, and so these overburdened counties are left in a bad condition with the added burden of being required by law to maintain the state trunk highways the cost of maintenance of which has heretofore been paid by the state."

"We feel proud of the spirit of loyalty to the public service in our organization and wish to assure the citizens of the state that the work entrusted to the commission will be carried on in the best manner possible under the conditions prevailing."

CHAMBERLAIN AND WIFE ASK DIVORCE; EACH CHARGE ABUSE

Saloonkeeper Files First Complaint; Says Spouse's Actions Make Him Sick, Nervous

WIFE, IN COUNTER CLAIM, SAYS HE BEAT HER THRICE WEEKLY

Declares Chamberlain Rewed Before Decree Was Effective

WILLIAM CHAMBERLAIN, associated, at one time, with Frank Kleinert in the saloon and restaurant business, has filed complaint in divorce proceedings against his wife, Ray, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, abusive language, intoxication and that the fact that she at times remains out all night and refuses to give any explanation when she returns.

Mrs. Chamberlain has filed a counter claim, asking to be granted a divorce or else to have the marriage annulled. She charges life with Chamberlain has been one beating after another, usually two or three beatings a week, and sometimes two or three times a day. She also asserts that Chamberlain married her in Minneapolis less than six months after he had obtained a divorce from another wife in Rochester, Minn.

Says Wife is Cruel

In Chamberlain's complaint, he charges his wife with cruel and inhuman treatment, the habit of flying into a violent rage and heaping imprecations upon him, of drinking and remaining out at night. He also charges her with frequenting a roadhouse in company with a Winona man. On January 15, last, Mrs. Chamberlain returned home late at night, her husband alleged, became violently enraged when he questioned her, proceeded to break up their headboard and throw the fragments downstairs.

On July 31, Chamberlain charges that he caught his wife hugging and kissing "John Doe," that she berated him when he came upon them and told him that she loved "John Doe," and that "John Doe" loved her. Chamberlain also alleges that his wife's conduct has caused him to worry and become sick and nervous.

Wife Asks Annulment

On the other hand, Mrs. Chamberlain asks for either a divorce or an annulment, declaring that she married Chamberlain in Minneapolis, September 25, 1920, and that not until later did she learn that he had been divorced from another wife in Rochester on May 7, 1920, and that six months had not passed between the divorce and the remarriage, as demanded by Minnesota law.

The second day after they were married, Mrs. Chamberlain says her husband quarreled with her and poured boiling water over her feet. In November, 1920, Mrs. Chamberlain declares, she was beaten and kicked until she was seriously injured. Since January, this year, Mrs. Chamberlain declares she has been subjected to two or three beatings a week, sometimes three and four times in one day.

Husband Fined for Beating Her

She also cites the fact that on July 17, last, Chamberlain was arrested for beating her and was fined $35 by Judge Hunt, as acting county judge. In March of this year she asserts she was so badly beaten and abused that she was under a physician's care for more than a month. When living in Winona, she was assaulted so hard and often that it was necessary for the police to intervene, it is claimed. She also charges that it was necessary for the La Crosse police to intervene because of the loud, profane and abusive language her husband used. Mrs. Chamberlain also asks alimony, declaring that her husband is worth $3,000 and is capable of earning about $3,000 a year as a bartender.

Fred H. Hartwell is attorney for Mrs. Chamberlain. F. E. Whitrow is handling Chamberlain's case.

NEW WASHINGTON NOTE TO MEXICO DECLARED ACCEPTABLE TO OBREGON

Dollar Mark Carved in Design of Gotham Church "Bride's Door"

NEW YORK.—The New York World today disclosed a standing jest that it says has been perpetrated for years by architects of the million dollar St. Thomas Episcopal church on the dozens of fashionable brides who have gone to the altar through the famous "bride's door" since the church was completed ten years ago.

Carved into the granite capital over the door, says the newspaper, is a huge dollar sign—slightly conventionalized, but unmistakable. A photograph of the door, reproduced to bear out the story, shows a beautiful and finely chiseled decoration surrounded by a double panel, on one side of which is carved a conventional true lover's knot, and on the other side the somewhat similar but strikingly different "dollar mark."

E. Donald Robb, architect, designer of the church, is quoted as having admitted designing the dollar mark, saying it was "done in fun."

Mr. Robb declared architects frequently have hidden satire and humor in church designs.

Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stiles, rector of St. Thomas, said he loved the dollar mark story was "a figment of the imagination."

JUDGE JENKINS OF EARLY COURT FAME DIES IN MADISON

Was Once Offered Seat on Supreme Bench by President Cleveland

NOTED FOR INJUNCTION AGAINST RAILWAY LABOR

Threatened With Impeachment for Northern Pacific Order

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Judge James G. Jenkins, 87, one of the most noted jurists in Wisconsin history, died Saturday at his home here, after a lingering illness. Death was hastened by the weakening effect upon him of the warm weather.

Judge Jenkins was on the federal bench several years and retired 16 years ago. He was an ardent democrat throughout his life, and was offered an associate justiceship on the United States court by President Cleveland in 1885. This, however, he declined.

Issued Famous Injunction

Judge Jenkins will be best remembered for his memorable injunction in 1903 against employees of the Northern Pacific railroad. The road at that time was in the hands of the United States court and was being operated by receivers. Judge Jenkins' injunction forbade them to combine or conspire to strike, at the same time acknowledging their right to combine for mutual benefit and protection.

It was the year of the panic, and the receivers of the road announced they had found it necessary to reduce salaries of officials and workers from 10 to 20 percent effective the first of the year. Then came the strike threat and the injunction. It created a furor in labor circles and there was much talk of seeking to have the judge impeached, even going so far as to have congress appoint a committee to come to Milwaukee and investigate, but the injunction, with some minor alterations, was upheld by the higher courts and pronounced good law. The impeachment talk died away and nothing came of it.

OPTIMISM PREVAILS OVER CHANCES OF RECOGNITION

Government Circles Indicate Belief Move Will Come Shortly

MEXICO CITY.—George T. Sumner, the United States chargé here, delivered to the foreign office a note from Washington Friday, declared the Excelsior Saturday morning. It was declared by the newspaper that the demands of the United States, incident to recognition had not been changed, but that the new note contained certain important stipulations which were acceptable to the Mexican government. It was said to have insisted upon a treaty of amity and commerce, but that this convention should be negotiated after the present Mexican government had been accorded recognition.

Authorities at the foreign office have refused to make any statement, but there have been expressions in government circles which have indicated optimism over prompt recognition of the government by the United States.

ROTARIANS BEAT KIWANIS CLUB IN SECOND BATTLE

The Rotarians added another victory to their list over the Kiwanis club Friday evening at West Avenue playground when they emerged from the second indoor ball game played between the two organizations this season with a 37 to 9 score.

Pleasant stellar hurrier for the winners, was effective at all times holding the Kiwanians practically at his mercy during the entire game, while Benton, for the losers, was cluttered all over the lot including several home runs and extra base rips. It was estimated that over 600 people came out to witness the game.

Management of the Rotary club announced that the team representing the organization is open to meet any organization or lodge indoor team in the city in a single game or a series.

U. S. PERFECTS NEW SYSTEM TO TEST PURITY OF GOLD

PARDON INIQUITIES

I WILL pardon their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have sinned against Me.—Jeremiah 33: 8.

Proof Enough

THE soviet government sends a dispatch to the Red Flag, bolshevik organ in Berlin, denying that it has applied for famine relief to the American or British governments. And the denial is technically true. The bolsheviks made their appeal, not through government channels but through a "volunteer" relief agency headed by Maxim Gorky. The bolsheviks are not on "speaking terms" with any of the powers, but while this would probably make little difference to the latter in a case of life and death such as this it doubtless had its influence with the bolsheviks in the selection of a non-political and more sympathetic channel for the appeal. The internal evidence of the soviet's official connection with the appeal is convincing, however, without such calculation of probabilities. All the avenues of communication with the outside world are owned, controlled and jealously guarded by the bolshevik government. Gorky's petition for help to Washington would not have been carried on the Moscow wireless if the bolsheviks were not cognizant of it and favorable toward it. And the bolshevik government has pledged the American state department to release all American prisoners. Gorky couldn't do that, nor could it have been done in any way except through official bolshevik action. The prisoners were released in acceptance of a stipulation of Mr. Hoover's; it was one of the terms on which he insisted before sending food to Russia. The connection between Russia's appeal for rescue from starvation and disease and the soviet government is plainly apparent. Propaganda denials, based on technical interpretations and intended to obscure the confession of failure of the communist theory, can hardly deceive anyone.

Concealed Taxation

PRESIDENT HARDING has indicated favor for an increase in first-class letter postage as a means of increasing government revenue. Net income from the higher rate would be turned into the United States Treasury for general purposes. Congress, searching wildly for sources from which revenue may be wrung, thinks favorably of the idea also. So we may set it down as reasonably certain that the increase will be made. It will raise between $70,000,000 and $80,000,000 a year and without costs of collection. You'll simply pay the postmaster three cents for a postage stamp instead of two cents; or two cents for a postcard instead of one.

There will be loud protests, probably, from mail-order houses and other businesses which conduct their advertising campaigns largely by circularizing. The average letter-writing citizen, too, will growl some. Here, to him, will be a visible evidence that the cost of government service has gone up, not down. For on its face there is no separation of the amount that goes to defray the cost of carrying his letter and the amount that goes to the treasury as a war tax.

Up in Canada they do it differently. They have a one-cent war tax on letters there. But it is a separate and distinct stamp. It is labeled as a tax stamp, and must be licked and placed alongside the postage stamp on each envelope. It is not camouflaged or concealed as an increase in postage. Our method, however, is to soften the blow; to disguise the tax wherever possible.

How's Your Coal Bin?

WE publish today a warning from the Interstate Commerce commission to Wisconsin utilities of an impending coal shortage. People are not buying and storing their coal now, while transportation is easy and coal is to be had. La Crosse people who fail to do so will have to buy when jobbers are grabbing the limited supply and holding up local dealers, as they did last winter. We all remember that experience, so unpleasant and costly. The Tribune and Leader-Press has inquired of local dealers, and they verify the warning given by Chairman Clark. They say they are in a poor position to warn the public, themselves, because too many people may think they are merely trying to create a scare for the benefit of their own pocketbooks. But the Interstate Commerce commission is an official public body intimately in touch with the situation. It knows what coal can be hauled, and it knows what coal is at the mines. Better buy your coal now, La Crosse, and "avoid the rush."

Savage Myths

A MAN two miles tall once lived near Niagara Falls, according to a tradition of Canadian Indians. This month they make their yearly canoe visits to the monster's reputed grave on Giant's Tomb Island in Georgian Bay, Lake Huron. Perhaps this makes you smile, yet for hundreds of years every Canadian Indian was taught from childhood to believe in the Indian Giant, just as we believed in Santa Claus. We got Santa Claus out of our heads as we matured, but the older the Indians get, the more firmly they believe in their mythical giant. Doubtless this shows that the difference between savagery and civilization is more in the brain than in material works.

There were giants on earth in those days, runs the Canadian Indian tradition. A race of giants, living near Hudson Bay, fought among themselves until only one was left—Mr. Ki-chi-ki-wa-na. Lonesome, he moved south and amused himself by tossing huge boulders. This, say the Indians, opened an outlet for Lake Erie and made Niagara Falls. One day, runs the legend, the giant was carrying away a mountain when he stepped on a big fish, slipped, and the mountain was shattered. Its pieces are the Thousand Islands. Finally the giant died. Indians say that their ancestors, unable to move him, covered him with sand and large rocks. Our sons would study geography without urging, if their books had a few stories like this.

Every race has folk-lore traditions like the Indian Giant, from Gog and Magog of Wales to the giant dragon of China. Are they entirely myths, or did they really have some meager foundation in fact? More probably, champion liars and visionaries existed in man's early days, as they exist now. They spun yarns which, passed on from generation to generation, finally became accepted as fact. A lie becomes universally believed if it is repeated often enough. Time, measured in thousands of years, kills it. Ten thousand years from now, the people of La Crosse will grin at some of the notions and theories we have today, just as we grin at the fabled Indian Giant who made Niagara Falls.

The annual loss by fire is $300,000,000; and every fired man thinks his employer lost that much.

Ed. Willing, Portland, Ore., is visiting his father, John E. Willing, Sr., of this city. Following his visit here he will go to Panama where he is contemplating entering the mercantile business.

The Thill-Manning-Whalen company is today finishing the laying of sewers which are being installed in several sections of the city. Work is being started by this company on the water main to be run to St. Michael's Orphanage on the Mormon Coulee road.

A special meeting of the committee of the La Crosse Motorboat club in charge of the hydroplane, La Crosse, will be called within a short time by Chairman George Rose to consider the matter of the disposal of the craft.

That the citizens of Winona are grateful to the city of La Crosse for the assistance given them in the recent fire which destroyed the Bay State Milling Co.'s plant, was evidenced today in a letter received by Mayor John Dengler, thanking him for the timely arrival of the La Crosse fire department on the scene.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A deal has been consummated for the sale of the La Crosse Gas Light company, the Edison Light and Power company, and the La Crosse Brush Electric and Power company to a syndicate of La Crosse and Chicago capitalists.

E. Bloom is moving his confectionery store from the Espee building to 1200 Caledonia street. West Avenue property owners will meet tonight at the Shilmin Granite works to protest against the use of quartzite as a covering on Twelfth street where the improvements are being made under contract with the E. S. Meade company.

N. C. Kelley, who has just returned from the east, said he was negotiating with several woolen mills in the east for the removal of their plants to La Crosse. The Ocean Wave, which has been located on the corner of George and Cohrs streets, moved to Twelfth and La Crosse streets this morning.

The foundation of the Second Baptist church on the corner of Clinton and Berlin streets, is being supplemented by an additional layer of rock. This is necessitated by the street excavations going on there, which leaves a bank about six feet high in some places on the east side of the street.

Winona is to have an electric street railway as soon as the tracks can be laid. Five motors will be put on at first and the cars will be sixteen feet in length.

Ten of the eighteen prisoners confined in the La Crosse county jail made their escape early last evening by cutting out a portion of the window casing in the north wall and knocking out some bricks. At five o'clock this morning a telegram was received from Red Wing stating that six men were found in a box car and are being held. Sheriff Vickers left on an early train for Red Wing to see if the six men are his escaped prisoners.

A. J. Sather and company will open up a branch shoe store in one of the rooms of John Stephenson's building on upper George street, soon. Mr. Sather's partner, Mr. Peterson, will act as manager.

J. T. Van Valkenburg who has just retired from business, will go to Canada on a visit. Next year he will pay a visit to the Sandwich Islands, where he has relatives.

LEE-ANDER

By MARTHA McCULLOCH-WILLIAMS

"What's his chance?" Dr. Helm asked of Tommy Barton, nodding toward a couple whirling in the newest two-step.

"Let's see! About fifty-fifty," Tommy said judiciously. "I'd say odds on, only she's a widow."

"Therefore wise and wary," Helm chuckled. "Well, luck to Leander. He deserves it for having to support that name all these years, if for nothing else."

"You mean let it support him," both Tommy and Helm said in a bit. "How d'ye make that?" from Helm. Tommy looked pained. "A blind man might see," he said, "with grandmothers all but getting on, to how should he be called. Grandma Green is bent on making him Lee, Grandpa is bent on making him Andy. Each subsidizes him liberally to embrace her view, especially when after his losing out at everything he says that the other is right. I have no confidence in a fellow with one of these fancy names."

"The name of being 'hag-ridden,'" Helm chuckled, "is hardly a help, and if I ever knew another man grandchild, how'd he happen to the fancy name?"

"Wasn't a happen—dead set purpose," from Tommy graciously. "One grandpa, you see, was Leveaux, 'father' and 'mother' were both Leveaux. He married to keep peace in the families, as there was no chance of another Green boy. Leander came into the world fatherless and the only son of an only son."

"Hm. Who wised you up to?" Helm demanded. "It was Tommy who chuckled, replying, 'Dad wised me up. Grandpa Towle has been visiting us regularly all the year—what she hasn't told me of family history would be written on your thumbnail and leave room for more!'"

"What nonsense you two up to now?" Anne's head came over her shoulder. "Talk of women gossips," she went on, "why you hear a sewing circle without half trying. Always picking up somebody—tell me, who is the last victim?"

"Ourselves," Helm countered promptly. "Not saying but feeling what folks are to let that word hang round. We are carrying off a fine woman like Mrs. Dan Taylor, right under our noses."

"Come, come," Anne said, "with the least loss a very nice head—she set well on handsome shoulders and massed all over with wavy, lustrous hair. And she was a very eligible bachelor, had been rivals for her favor all of her years. Hence the implication regarding Leander's widow. Anne understood it perfectly and laughed over it. Inside, she was really fond of both men, but for some reason or other, she wasn't born with it."

"Answering her, she decided it was part of the general grudge. Fate bore all lone women who were being married. She ought to marry—that she knew as well as anybody. But how to take one who was being married might mean heartbreak for the other."

"Anne was not above puns—witness her remark: 'Can't either of you rescue a lady?'" Anne said, "Leander must be terribly fed up with green stuff right about now. In the laugh that followed this sally she made a dignified retreat, her eyes twinkling wickedly, as she looked back at Tommy, and waved her hand to his fellow-sinner."

"What would you give to shake her hand?" Helm asked. "Hard as she deserves," Helm demanded under breath. Tommy muttered and shook his head. "In his heart he was shaking her. He was much as to kiss her. She is the very devil for aggravating you—but we say he has no right to do so."

"What struck you blind, Tommy Barton?" Mrs. Taylor called as he passed close to her without apparently perceiving her. "You're looking at me, aren't you?" she asked. "You're looking at me, aren't you?" she asked. "You're looking at me, aren't you?" she asked.

"You're looking at me, aren't you?" she asked. "You're looking at me, aren't you?" she asked. "You're looking at me, aren't you?" she asked.

MIKE AND PAL SPEND PLEASANT AFTERNOON AT TARGET PRACTICE

"Lots of extra time we got this afternoon and nothing to do with it," said Mike as he and Frank walked slowly up the road.

"But, say, Mike," burst forth Frank. "I got an idea."

"Let's go back to my house and make some darts and a target and have some practice—gee, it's great sport."

Mike was ready for anything, so they turned back and were soon doing up the target practice outfit.

The darts were made by sticking a nail through a good sized cork and then sticking three feathers into the top of the dart. One of these darts is shown in the illustration. A set of three were made for each boy.

A suitable target was made by gluing and tacking heavy brown paper over one side of a barrel hoop. The box-like affair thus made was filled with dirt. Another piece of brown paper was glued to the other side of the barrel hoop. This finished the target except for the rings on the face of it. These were put on with water colors and a brush.

The boys stood the target on a chair, paced off fifteen feet, and drew a line. They took turns throwing their darts. The thrower stood even with the line, aimed his dart at the bull's eye of the target and then threw. Three throws were allowed each. Each ring counted for a certain amount, and the totals were added up to see who had won the competition.

The sharp points of the darts readily pierced the paper of the target and stuck in the soft earth.

"Sport, ain't it?" asked Frank after he had been throwing darts for about an hour.

"It is," replied Mike as his third dart hit the bull's eye.

ONE REEL YARNS

THE STOLEN BOAT
Camp Wilson—now Camp Harding—was on the shore of a beautiful lake, the boys enjoyed plenty of swimming and some little fishing from bank, but no boating. The director would take no risks. He could watch fifty fellows swimming in one place, but not fifteen boats scattered over the whole lake. He would have no boats in the camp.

Boats, therefore, being forbidden, were intensely coveted.

Every morning "The Clock-man," as the boys called him, rowed across to catch the 7:34; every evening he returned on the 6:56 and rowed back. During the day he left his boat locked to a post. There it lay, empty and unused, an added temptation to the land-grabbing boys couldn't resist.

"And so it happened that several daring spirits conceived the idea of getting together all the keys in the camp and trying secretly to unlock the boat. One key worked. From that day on there were stolen rides, so secret and so carefully managed that neither the Clock-man nor the director suspected. These successful adventures became more and more daring. The rides were longer and longer. More and more boys rode in the boat at one time. Then one evening, about fifteen minutes before the 6:56, was due, with the boat heavily loaded, the carsman pulling strenuously to get back in time as car broke. They were forced to paddle back, inch by inch, with a single oar. The minutes seemed like hours. They reached the landing just as the train whistled. They worked feverishly to lock the boat in place again, but it was not the voice of the Clock-Man—it was the director.

The boys looked up the road; they saw the Clock-Man running in the other direction.

That evening while seven sad boys were mourning a three-day confinement to camp, the Clock-Man sheepishly confessed to his wife. "Well, I guess he caught me leaving the boat at last. Just as I was coming down to the pier tonight I heard him yell 'What do you mean by stealing my boat. I'm going to have you arrested.' I didn't wait to hear it all. Anyway I might as well walk around the lake the rest of the summer."

A Poor Substitute
"What have you in the shape of cucumbers this morning?" asked the customer of the new grocery clerk.

"Nothing but bananas, ma'am," replied the clerk.

FAMOUS ANECDOTES OF FAMOUS PEOPLE

A negro was walking along the street in New York, carrying a very heavy suit case and a still heavier valise. Suddenly a hand was laid on his shoulder and a hearty voice said to him:

"That's pretty heavy, brother. Suppose you let me help you."

The negro protested but in vain. The man took the heavy valise and the two walked down the street talking like two old friends, until they reached the hotel.

"That," explained Booker T. Washington, "is how I first met Theodore Roosevelt."

THE PARABLE OF THE PAJAMAS

HERE came unto a Young Man who said, I desire a better job. For behold, I have been living in my present situation, and I am getting nowhere. And I desire to move up.

And I inquired of him concerning his occupation, and he told me what it was, concerning matters such as I supposed to be doing in my vocation.

And he answered me saying, I once learned that, but I have forgotten. And I know the answer to that question, but I cannot think of it just now.

And I have a book wherein I look up such matters when I have need. But there was nothing which I asked of him which he could tell me. I might Off the Bat.

Related a Story

And I said unto him, Once upon a time there was a man who said, I have occasion to travel now and again, and behold, I will keep a Bag that is always packed. And he put into it a Suit of Pajamas, and a Safety Razor, and a Tooth Brush, and a Pair of Hair Brushes, and divers other things such as Travelers need.

And he went upon a Journey, and it came to pass in the morning that he arose and put on his Raiment, and took his Bag and went to the Wash Room, and his Pajamas did he leave in his Bedchamber, and while he was washing and shaving, the Porter came along, and removed the Sheets and the stained ears when the local paper came out with the headline, "Major Rampancy. All Victims Well Known and Highly Delected. Residents of This and Neighboring Counties." Below, categorically,

CLEANUP SQUAD TO ADJUST CLAIMS OF ALL SOLDIERS HERE

Government Officers to be Here Last of Month to Fix Compensation Matters

A cleanup squad will be in La Crosse from August 29 to September 1 to undertake the adjustment of all claims against the government by former service men. Men will be expected to come into La Crosse from La Crosse, Monroe, Vernon and Juneau counties.

Men who have claims for compensation against the government are instructed to report in advance to R. P. H. Schultz at the employment office in the Rivoli theater building, to Dr. J. A. Armitage or to Miss Mabel Young of the Red Cross, in the State bank of La Crosse.

Following is the letter of instructions received by Dr. Armitage from the public health service of the treasury department:

"J. R. Armitage, P. A. S. (R) La Crosse, Wisconsin.

"An order has recently been received at this office from Director C. R. Forbes of the bureau of war risk insurance, Washington, D. C., instructing that squads be organized to tour the district for the purpose of speedily adjusting all claims for compensation in those cases where dissatisfaction has arisen.

"It is the purpose of this squad to remain in certain localities for a definite period of time and all cases where it is known that the medical treatment, federal board training, or rating of the disability has been unsatisfactorily adjusted, should be brought to the attention of this squad, who will use all means at its disposal to expedite the adjustment of these cases.

"It is requested that you extend every possible courtesy and facilities of the bureau of war risk insurance in your locality to this squad. The physician accompanying this squad has been given authority to authorize treatment and transportation.

"Attached is a schedule for your convenience, giving the dates the squad will arrive and depart from your locality.

"It is further requested that you arrange with the attending staff to handle as expeditiously as possible all requests for examination from this squad, so that prompt action can be taken on these cases.

"If you have knowledge of any claimants of the bureau of war risk insurance who are not being properly cared for, it is requested that you arrange through the local Red Cross, the American Legion, or by some means, that these claimants be brought before this squad while at your station.

"The Red Cross and American Legion have assumed the responsibility of having these cases presented to the squads on the dates indicated.

"You are also requested to canvass the hospitals and have available bed space for all claimants whom it may be necessary to hospitalize.

BOAT EXPLOSION WRECKS A LAUNCH ABOVE WINONA

Running his launch, "The Gosling," into shallow water in the Mississippi river two miles above Winona and then wading ashore, William A. Baumann, member of the insurance firm of Baumann & Gordon, of Winona, escaped injury at 4:30 p. m. Thursday when the boat burst into flames in mid-stream, and 15 minutes after being beached, was blown to pieces by the explosion of the fuel tank.

The accident occurred near the old Stone House while Mr. Baumann was returning to his summer camp on Fisher Island. He was alone in the boat and this fact probably saved some one from almost certain death. John Poroda of Winona, narrowly escaped injury or death when he attempted to reach the burning boat to see if any one was in it. The fuel tank exploded when he was approximately 150 feet away, blowing fragments of wood and steel 300 feet in the air and in all directions, and covering the water about the boat with burning oil. Mr. Poroda escaped being struck by missiles. The explosion was terrific in its force and what remained of the boat after the flames devoured.

AT THE RIVOLI
"The Passionate Pilgrim," a Paramount picture with Matt Moore and Rubye de Remer in the principal roles, was received with applause by a large audience at the Rivoli theater last night. The story is an interesting one and the situations are dramatically effective. The action is rapid, the settings elegant and the support entirely adequate. It's well worth seeing. Last times today.

"Society Snobs," the latest Selznick picture which comes to the Rivoli theater for a one day run Sunday, is said to be one of the frankest exposures of society as represented by the nouveau riche ever screened.

The Foresters have so recently risen from obscurity to riches that Mother Forester wishes to hitch their social reins to a foreign nobleman through the marriage of her daughter Vivian, with the popular belief that a title is the solution of all smart set supremacy.

Her carefully laid plans, in spite of every safeguard, come to naught and her social aspirations tumble to earth amidst the amusing, unsympathetic joers of the social world. Then daughter takes the shaping of destiny into her own hands and brings the story to a satisfactory close.

FRANKLYN AND THE JUBILEE GIRLS AT RIVIERA TODAY

Franklyn Farnum the distinguished young film actor, who appears in "The Raiders" at the Riviera for the last times today will have as fellow player "Wiggles" who is considered to be the most romantic monkey that has ever appeared upon the screen. The advent of Wiggles as a performer of the screen brings back to mind the names of many other famous primates who have edified and amused the great amusement public for years. Consul the Great, was supposed to be the most famous monkey in the history of the stage, while Alfred the Great was a close second. It is a very sad fact that the life of a performing monkey is very short, as they usually succumb after a long illness to tuberculosis. The Jubilee Girls in "Lonesome Town," also are on the same program.

MARGARITA FISHER-CASINO
"Payment Guaranteed," starring Margarita Fisher, at the Casino today, is based on a love story of compelling interest and of a type which has a universal appeal. The strong personalities of the principal characters are so impressed upon the spectators in the first few scenes, and the problem which they face together is so forcefully presented, that sympathy is enlisted from the start. The unfolding of the plot is dotted with several powerfully dramatic incidents which uncover the latent qualities of the man and woman, and lead the thoughtful in the audience to say on their way home, "What would I have done under such circumstances?"

Important Announcement To The Public

Beginning Monday, August 8, the Fred W. Kruse Co. Will Guarantee Every Garment They Sell.

The one great aim of the Fred W. Kruse Company has always been to give the best possible value and service.

During recent years it was impossible to guarantee garments, on account of the unreliability of dyes, and other unavoidable conditions brought on by the World War.

However, with the return to better conditions in the needle industry, Fred W. Kruse Company will guarantee every garment they sell, not only as to style, but as to quality of materials, linings, color and workmanship.

Never since the founding of the Fred W. Kruse Company Stores have we assembled such a choice selection of authentic styles in high-grade ready-to-wear apparel at reasonable prices, and the Kruse method of merchandising this Fall will be to let the prices and merchandise talk instead of printers' ink.

For Monday, August 8th, we announce our first showing of Fall Suits, Coats and Dresses and the beginning of our ANNUAL AUGUST SALE OF FURS AND PLUSH COATS.

HEALTH OFFICIALS OF SOUTH DENY PLAGUE, FAMINE

Declare Situation Not Such as to Give Any Cause for Alarm

EXPECT PELLAGRA INCREASE
BUT NOTHING SENSATIONAL

Predict General Increase of Disease in the Nation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Denial that there is a "condition approaching a famine or plague" in the south, was made today in a report unanimously adopted by health officials from a dozen southern states in conference here with Surgeon General Cummings of the public health service, to discuss the pellagra situation. It held that "erroneous and misleading" statements had been made to the public.

The report said the southern health officials "deplore the fact that an impression has been created that famine conditions exist in the south and as a result that pellagra has increased to an alarming extent."

"After making an investigation," it said, "we do not believe the situation warrants or should occasion any undue alarm. The indications are that there will be an increase in pellagra this year in localities in certain states where the disease has been epidemic, but the number of cases and deaths from pellagra during 1922 will still be less than the annual average during the period of 1914 to 1921."

"There can be no doubt but that there will be an increase in the prevalence of tuberculosis, pellagra and other diseases during the next few years as a result of economic depression throughout the entire country, unless federal, state and local health departments are given adequate financial support and co-operation in directing intensive public health education and in the establishment and maintenance of local health organizations."

SHAKE-UP COMING IN INDIAN AFFAIRS IN THE COPPER STATE

Indian Commissioner at Duluth
Discusses War Between Fullbloods and Half-breeds

DULUTH, Minn.—Administration of Indian affairs in Minnesota is to be centralized soon and controlled through one consolidated agency, Charles H. Burke, commissioner of Indian affairs in the department of the interior, announced here Friday. He arrived by lake steamer from Duluth and left for a trip of inspection throughout Minnesota, and as far west as Seattle, Wash. Disputes that have occurred recently among various factions of the Chippewas may result in the passage of a jurisdictional act soon that will place the whole matter before the court of claims, said the commissioner.

"A considerable amount of confusion exists today," he said. "It arises largely from the conflict between the Indians of pure blood and those of mixed blood. Both have organized camps and are fighting each other. The mixed blood has the majority."

"Several millions of dollars, a considerable amount of timber on the Red Lake reservation and some swampland are the stakes. The state of Minnesota is also involved and before we are through with it we may also have to get a judgment against the state."

JAPAN WILL NEVER TRY TO BEAT U. S. SAYS MISSIONARY

Urges Christian Education for Orient to Combat Japan's Heathen Teaching

DIXON, Ill.—"Japan will never try to conquer this country," Dr. S. S. Waltz of Chicago, executive secretary of the brotherhood of the United Lutheran church in America, declared at the Rock River assembly. He has just returned from the Orient. "This country," he said, "has only one chance of conquering Japan. It would be necessary for us to kill every man, woman and child in the island empire and then to wage war on the vast army of Japanese dogs and cats that would arise to subdue the invaders."

He said there is only one practical way for the United States to conquer Japan and that is to carry Christian education around the world before the evils of Pagan education secure a permanent foothold in the east.

"Japan is trying the experiment of heathen education," he said. "If she succeeds the entire Orient will follow her lead. America is the power of the Occident. It is our duty to carry Christianity to the Orient and if we fail the Japanese educational system will spread to our shores and will attempt to Paganize the Occident."

COPPER IN MEAT

Are you aware that every time you eat meat you are unconsciously consuming a certain quantity of copper? This has been proved by an analysis, which has been made by a group of French scientists who have reported the results of their inquiry to the French Academy.

It was unexpectedly found that a very appreciable quantity of copper existed in a quantity of soup which had been made from a pound of meat. To satisfy themselves that this was not the result of an error arising from the pans in which the analysis had been made, the experiment was repeated in vessels of tin, platinum, iron, porcelain and glass, and it was again found that copper existed in beef, veal, mutton and the whites and yolks of eggs.

The quantity of meat taken was in each case an English pound which was stewed in a quart of water for five hours, and it was incidentally proved that the practice of putting the meat into cold water and raising this to boiling point was much better than plunging cold meat into hot water.

ONE TOO MANY

A literary family to which a seventh child had just come was at a country house, and for a time a good deal of the care of the other six children devolved upon the father, who had Spartan ideas as to the upbringing of his sons. One morning he carried his two-year-old to the creek near his home to give him a cold plunge. The child objected lustily to this proceeding, but was firmly held and ducked, notwithstanding.

At the instant of the ducking, however, a brownie hand seized the Spartan father by his shoulder and flung him back, while the angry voice of the farmer, who was his nearest neighbor, roared in his ear:

"Here! None of that! I'll have the law on you for this!"

For some time the father endeavored to convince the farmer that he was not trying to drown the child. Even then he wasn't wholly convinced. To the very last minute he kept shaking his head skeptically and saying:

"Well, I dunno about that. I dunno. You got six besides this."

eliminating wholesale liquor dealers

they lawfully import for such use.

Supplemental regulations covering sacramental wine will be issued later.

The new regulations also forbid sales at wholesale of intoxicating liquors for domestic use in bottles of a greater capacity than one pint and permit wholesale druggists to sell during any one month liquor aggregating only ten per cent of his entire average monthly bona fide drug business sales.

SPANISH TROOPS AGAIN BEATEN BY MOORISH REBELS

Spain Suffers Serious Reverse in Fighting Against Tribesmen at Melilla

SPANISH CABINET MAY FALL AS RESULT OF BIG DEFEAT

Alfonso Reported to Have Consulted Political Leaders

MADRID.—Spanish forces were landed at La Restinga on the Moroccan coast southeast of Melilla for the purpose of attacking the right wing of the Moorish rebel tribesmen, have encountered serious resistance and their advance has been held up. An official statement last night said the Spanish cruiser Catalina is protecting the troops that have been landed. Gousson and other towns along the northeastern Moroccan coast near Melilla have been blockaded by the Spanish war vessels in that neighborhood.

Little doubt remains that Spain has suffered a serious reverse in Melilla and that the situation at Melilla threatens to become critical. Reports persist that the Spanish cabinet may resign and important political conversations have already taken place between King Alfonso and the foremost political leaders of the country.

Garrison Massacred
Twenty Spanish soldiers, the last remnant of the Spanish troops to resist capture of the town of Nador, fifteen miles south of Melilla, were massacred by the Moors after having surrendered, according to advices received here Saturday from Melilla. The massacred Spanish troops had held out for eleven days against great odds, the dispatch said, taking refuge first in a church and finally in a nearby mill. They surrendered, it was said, only after the attacking tribesmen had offered to spare their lives.

Moors Demolish Church
The Moors, after entering the town, ransacked houses and demolished the church. Some of the Spanish troops who escaped are said to have seen the Moors disposing of the booty they had captured. During the dispute it was said a number of their own men were killed and wounded.

During the eleven days that the Spanish contingent resisted the invaders, they were forced to survive on barley and wheat procured at random.
The Moroccan situation has developed a political phase here, and King Alfonso, it is asserted by newspapers, has summoned Count Romanones, Antonio Maura, Francisco Cambó, and Santiago Alba, prominent figures of the liberal party, and Melguides Alvarez, the reformist leader, to consult with him relative to the policy to be pursued by the country in future.

Young Man Leads Moors
Abd-el-Krim, the leader of the Moroccan tribesmen credited with having brought about the Spanish defeat near Melilla, is but 35 years old, says the Herald. He was educated in France and Spain, speaks several languages, and aims at the civilization of Morocco in accordance with European ideals, but without lacking the essentials of Moorish culture.

During the war he was classed as a pro-German. There is a certain amount of mystery regarding him, but the newspaper declares him to be an experienced military leader and strategist.

CLAIMS CHICAGO'S MISSING BANKER IS NEAR CHIHUAHUA

Texas Says He'll Help Capture Him Only if Reward is Large

CHIHUAHUA CITY.—By The Associated Press.—Warren C. Spurgin, missing Chicago banker, who arrived in Chihuahua City July 22, is in hiding not far from here, according to M. E. Clinton, who declared here Saturday he knows the whereabouts of Spurgin but is waiting for word from Chicago assisting in his apprehension.

After registering at a hotel in Chihuahua City on July 22 under the name of W. C. Scott, Spurgin met Clinton, a discharged soldier and former Texas. Spurgin disappeared from Chihuahua City the next day, returning July 29 and was seen on the streets several times during the day. He seemed entirely unbothered, according to persons who had him under observation. When questioned he said he came from Des Moines, Iowa, and intended to purchase a ranch and make his home in Mexico.

"I know where Spurgin is and will turn him over for a big reward, but not for $2,000," Clinton said.
Clinton was seen on the streets of Chihuahua City with Spurgin two or three times during July 22 and July 29.

CANNON SUNK BY ANGRY G. O. P. FOUND IN MUD OF LAKE

WARSAW, Ind.—A cannon which was fired as a salute by its owner, "Billy" Blinn, an ardent democrat, celebrating the election of Grover Cleveland as president in 1884 and which disappeared immediately after, has been found imbedded in the mud of Center Lake, in which the water is unusually low.

It was thought at the time that republicans removed the cannon and sunk it in the lake, but the whereabouts of the piece had never been definitely determined.

LONG PROCESSION OF CARS TO BRING MILWAUKEEANS TO SHRINE EVENT HERE

In addition to two special train-loads of Shriner's who will come to the big mid-summer ceremony here next Saturday from Milwaukee, a large number of members of the order will journey to La Crosse from that city in automobiles.

Edward Riemer is president of the Tripoli Motor club and will have charge of arrangements for the cross-state caravan. It is probable that the long procession of automobiles containing the Shriner's and members of their families will leave Milwaukee Thursday afternoon or Friday morning, arriving here in time for all the events which will mark the big day.

KNUTSON FIGURES AGAIN IN ENDING STRIKE AT RACINE

Walk-out Year Old Disposed of
Through Agency of La Crosse
Industrial Commissioner

MADISON, Wis.—R. G. Knutson, the new member of the industrial commission, has settled another strike. The labor controversy which has been on at the Hamilton Beach Manufacturing company at Racine for the past eight months, was settled last night by Mr. Knutson. The company agreed to take back the men without discrimination.

At a meeting of the union men Friday night it was decided to accept the terms and call the strike off. This is the second strike which Mr. Knutson has settled in the past ten days, the first being a paper-mills controversy at Rhinelander.

Called Off, Says Racine
RACINE, Wis.—It was announced here that the strike at the Hamilton Beach Manufacturing plant had been called off. As a result of a conference between F. J. Osus of the company and R. G. Knutson of the Wisconsin industrial commission on Friday, the industrial employees and strikers held a meeting in the Trades and Labor hall last evening, discussed the matter and then voted to declare the strike off unconditionally.

The strike was declared a year ago and at that time it was said 750 employees were thrown out of employment. Since that time the plant has been picketed by strikers. Several damage suits were commenced and are still pending, no doubt, it is said, will now be dismissed.

The difficulty arose over a question of application of the seniority rule. The factory will operate as an open shop.

CHANCE IS BOOSTED AS MANAGER FOR THE CUBS AGAIN

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Frank Chance, one time manager of the Cubs, but now living on a ranch at Glendora, near here, has been advanced by his Chicago friends and certain baseball fan organizations of Chicago as a possible manager of the Chicago National team for the balance of this year and next, it became known Saturday. Chance said he had not received any word from Cub directors or President Veeck, but that if the managership were offered to him he would be "glad to get back in harness in Chicago."

JOSEPH HOFWEBER GETS AGENCY FOR A FINE NEW AUTO

Local Dealer Will Sell the Wills
Sainte Claire in this Territory

Joseph E. Hofweber, prominent automobile man of this city, has secured the representation of the "Wills Sainte-Claire," called "the culmination of car creation," for this city and western Wisconsin.

Mr. Hofweber has received a machine for demonstrating and has elicited favorable comment among automobile owners. He considers himself very fortunate in securing this agency. He will continue at his present place of business, 121 South Front street, where he is also handling the Chalmers and Maxwell line, intending in the near future to establish in larger and more elaborate quarters.

GARAGEMAN SHOTS HIS OWN FATHER AS ACCESSORIES THIEF

CHICAGO, Ill.—Shot by his own son after being caught in the latter's garage carrying away several automobile cushions early Saturday, Frank Schone lies in a police station with a bullet through his hip. Robert Schone, the son, told police, tires and accessories had been disappearing from the garage. Friday night he lay in wait.

Early Saturday a man pried open a back door with a crowbar, picked up cushions and started away. Young Schone pursued him, firing his pistol. When young Schone overtook the man he discovered him to be his own father.

The older Schone had been separated from his wife, Robert, and three other children lived with the mother. The father told the police he owned part of the garage.

GET WRONG BODY
KENT, Minn.—When the children of the Frank Welling family opened a coffin shipped from St. Louis, Mo., which they supposed contained the body of their brother, John Welling, 24, they found the body of an uncle, Henry Welling, 70, whom they had not seen for twenty years. How the mistake in notification as to the name occurred has not been explained.

WOUNDED KILLER SHOOTS SELF TO AVOID CAPTURE

Hit in Duel With Sheriff Alleged Murderer of Police Chief is Suicide

HAD BEEN SOUGHT FOR MONTHS SINCE KILLING

Stayed Close to His Home While
Police Dragged Nation

AURORA, Ill.—James Witt, alias Jos. W. 29, for whom a nationwide hunt was instituted as the murderer recently of Chief of Police George Rehm of West Chicago, Friday night shot and killed himself after he had been badly wounded in a duel with Sheriff Martin Hextall of Kendall county in a country road near Yorkville, Ill.

Witt's wife, at the wheel of another automobile, escaped with her three-year-old son.

Yorkville is 50 miles from West Chicago and 27 miles from St. Charles, where Witt lived at the time he is alleged to have shot Chief Rehm. It appeared that Witt had been in this vicinity for two months while police were combing the west for him. He was supposedly traced to Salt Lake about six weeks ago. A reward of $1,500 was offered for his arrest.

Sheriff Hextall learned last night that a man resembling Witt had been employed at an Oswego county garage recently. He set out from Yorkville for Oswego. On the way he met two cars with only spotlights lit. Suspicious the sheriff gave pursuit. One car turned off a side road, but the other containing Witt ran into a blind road leading to a crematory.

His wife was in the other machine.

POSTAGE METER NEW DEVICE TO OBIVATE LICKING THE STAMPS

NEW YORK.—New York was introduced Saturday to the postage meter—a machine which makes every man his own stamp printer and does away with the necessity of sticking them on. The National City bank has the first one exhibited here.

The machine, recently approved by the postoffice department, operates on a principle similar to that of the government's automatic cancelling machines. As the letters are run through it a square about the size of a stamp is printed in which appear the words "U. S. Postage—Paid 2 cents."

The machine is equipped with a register which can be set only by postoffice authorities. When the register shows the user has stamped as many letters as he paid for the machine stops and has to be taken to the postoffice to be re-set.

SANDERS DECLARES CAR GOING SLOW WHEN CRASH CAME

That his car was moving not more than twelve miles an hour at the time of the collision is the statement of L. C. Sanders of West Salem, whose machine was wrecked in a mix-up with F. L. Bolles' auto on Wednesday evening on the North Salem road. Mr. Sanders said that his daughter, who was driving the car, saw the Bolles machine as she turned out of the Stevenson road, and was already on the right side of the road when the other machine reached the intersection. That Mr. Bolles had plenty of room to pass behind the Sanders car is proved, Mr. Sanders declared, by the fact that the rear wheels of his machine after the wreck were in the center of the road. Bolles' car he said, was on the left side of the road after the smash.

EXPRESS COMPANY DENIES CLAIM THAT MONEY WAS LOST

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—The Southern Express company will refuse to pay the claim of Gaston B. Means on account of the alleged loss of $57,000 which he claims he shipped from Concord, N. C., to Chicago on June 22 last and is prepared to prove that no money was lost from the package in transit, Frank M. Shannonhouse, attorney for the company, said Saturday.

The package was shipped by Means to Roy B. Keen, counsel for Mrs. Mary Melvin, administratrix of the estate of her sister, Mrs. Maud A. King, who was shot and killed near Concord four years ago, and in connection with whose death Means was tried and acquitted on a charge of murder.

"HIGH-JACKER" ROBBERIES AND KILLINGS ROUSE THE WHEAT BELT TO DANGER OF CROOKS PREYING ON HARVEST HANDS

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Bandits termed "high jacker" who are making a business of riding freight trains in the wheat belt of Kansas and certain parts of Oklahoma robbing harvest hands of their wages, are becoming more bold and are receiving increasing attention from authorities according to reports today.

"High jacker" activities, which have been reported almost daily, reached a climax Wednesday night when two of the robbers attempted to hold up a party of former soldiers and harvest hands aboard a freight train running between Kechi and Purdy, Kas. The former soldiers, just discharged from a Texas army camp, began shooting and in the exchange of shots one man, said to have been a "high jacker" was killed and four others injured. The remaining robbers escaped after a terrific fight in which he threw half a dozen of his opponents from the moving train.

Officials of several smaller Kansas towns were reported to be investigating mysterious murders in their locality on the authority that the "high jacker" may have committed them. There have been five or more unexplained killings in the Kansas wheat belt in the last month. Special efforts are being made in all of the wheat belt towns, it was said, to ascertain whether the men are individual criminals who have left the city for the harvest field knowing that the workers are mostly transients and that a majority of them will carry money.

KLEINERTZ' CHARGES AGAINST MILLER ARE DISMISSED BY HUNT

Hartwell Gets Assault Charge Dismissed; Shows Court Hasn't Jurisdiction in Case

Charges of assault and using abusive language, brought by Frank Kleinertz against W. N. Miller were dismissed in county court Friday afternoon.

When Miller was arrested on the warrant sworn to by Kleinertz he demanded a jury trial. When the case was called both alleged offenses were in one complaint. After the jury had been sworn in and had taken their place and Kleinertz was on the stand testifying, Fred H. Hartwell, attorney for Miller, moved for the dismissal of the case. He contended that the prosecution had no right to include two alleged offenses in one complaint.

C. L. Baldwin, lawyer for Kleinertz, finally agreed to a dismissal of the assault charge, which, from the evidence, seemed to include only a threat to assault and the shaking of Miller's fist in Kleinertz' face. After the assault charge was disposed of Hartwell sprang his coup. He informed Acting County Judge Hunt that the county court had no jurisdiction in cases in which it is charged abusive language is used if the city has ordinances carrying a penalty for such offenses, and that according to the statutes the case should be tried in a justice court and not the county court.

Judge Hunt looked up the law, called the attorneys into conference, and the case was dismissed. As a result dismissals were obtained in both cases.

LOST LAUNCH FOUND
RACINE, Wis.—The naphtha launch Sunrise, missing since Tuesday night, when she cleared for Benton Harbor, and which it was feared had been lost, arrived safely at St. Joseph, Michigan. Captain Orlander of the coast guards received a telephone message from St. Joseph Saturday morning informing him that the boat arrived there late Friday. The message said the boat when about half way across the lake, developed engine trouble and shortage of gasoline and was obliged to sail the balance of the trip.

BRIDGE AT RACINE CAVES AND CREW OF MEN BARELY ESCAPES

East Half of Span Holds Under West Part Falls Under
Derrick Strain

RACINE, Wis.—Eight employees of a Milwaukee wrecking company had narrow escapes from death this morning when the entire west half of the old West Sixth street bridge caved in with a crash that could be heard for blocks around. The east end of this section fell into the water, a distance of fifteen feet, while the girders supporting the opposite end held. The latter fact is probably what saved the lives of the men.

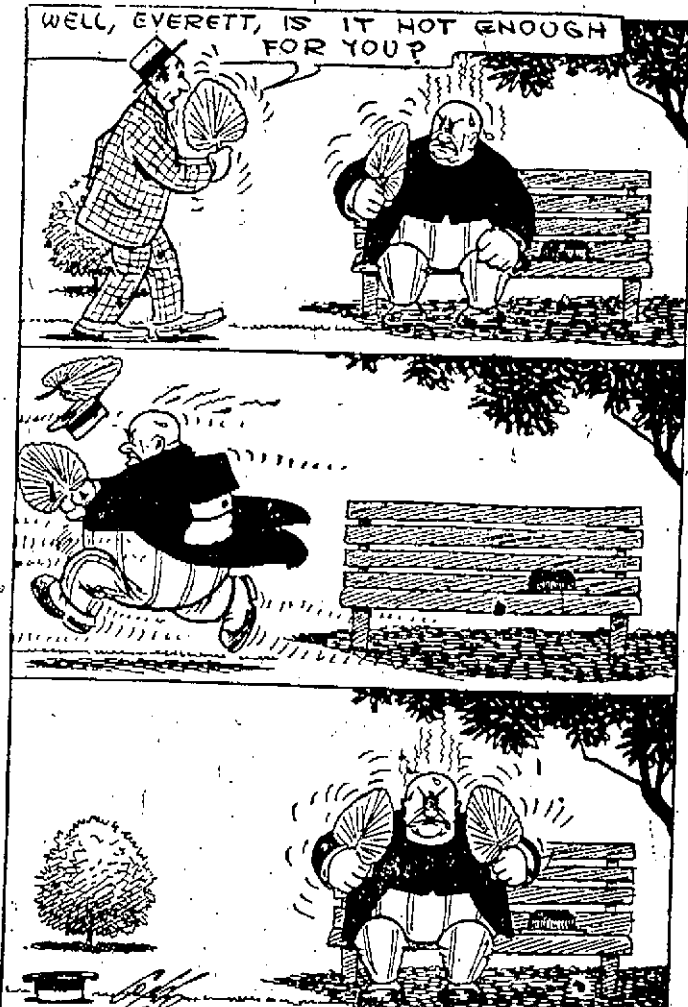

Ed Connolly, the only man thrown into the river, which is quite shallow at this point had an easy time extricating himself as he was thrown clear of the falling mass of steel and oak. All the others were huddled on the extreme east end, which hit the water.

The men were near a heavy derrick which was being used to hoist a portion of the turning mechanism of the center abutment. The derrick hook had been attached to the section and the order given to hoist. As the heavy weight swung clear, the bridge crumpled under the strain. There were four big acetylene tanks on the end of the structure which fell into the water and it is considered remarkable that none of the men were struck by them. A heavy cart on the west end, also crashed down the incline and just missed striking the men.

SHOTGUN KILLS CLEANER
RACINE, Wis.—Thomas Hope, 34, was instantly killed Friday while cleaning a shotgun. The weapon exploded, the charge striking him in the face and tearing away most of the flesh. It is said that a shell accidentally was left in the gun when it was put away last fall.

WEST AVENUE TEAM DEFEATS COPELAND JUNIORS FRIDAY

The West Avenue Invincibles defeated the Copeland Juniors in an indoor baseball game at West avenue last night by a score of 11 to 0. Christopher, pitching stellar ball, struck out 17 men and allowed but one hit. Schroeder, pitching for the opposing team allowed nine hits and had six strike outs.

AGE WILL NOW BAR JACK JOHNSON FROM BOXING IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK.—The state boxing commission announced adoption Saturday of a rule fixing 35 years as the age limit for boxers seeking licenses to box in New York state. This will bar Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, who is 43 years old.

APPETITE

Years ago when Pete Herman was shining shoes in New Orleans, he dined on red beans and rice three times a day. Since he has become the bantam king, he still clings to his favorite food. Even at banquets, which are pretty swell for us fangled cats, Herman insists on red beans and rice, with plenty of pepper.

Many a boxer has been forced to come to this diet when business got dull. But Herman passed that class a long, long time ago.

AN EXCEPTION

Tony Rocco, third baseman of the rampaging Boston Braves, never had a baseball in his hands until he was 10.

He got in a game as a substitute one day and broke it up with his bat. Since then he has developed into a star.

Most kids graduate out of the nursery with a rubber ball in their hands and keep right on up the scale of school and college baseball.

Tony R., as a ball player, was born, not made.

NOT A BUST

Turner Barber cost the Chicago Cubs $12,000 four years ago. Until this year he was generally figured as a bust.

Before this year he was used only against right-handers. Johnny Evers notified him this spring he would have to face both sides of pitching this year and that it was up to him to make good.

And Barber is proving he is worth every nickel of that purchase price which seemed like a lot of money when it was forked over.

Australasians Take Lead In Davis Cup Semi-Finals At Allegheny Country Club

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Australasians took the lead in the Davis cup semi-final round tennis matches Friday by winning the doubles on the grass courts of the Allegheny Country club, 4-6, 9-7, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

The Australians proved the stronger team. After the British had taken the lead, two sets to one, the Australians were able by correct placement shots and deadly service, first to even the count and then win the match by taking the next two.

The British team showed splendid judgment in the first set, which they won, 6-4, scoring 34 points to the Australians' 22.

Todd Shows Severe Service
Todd's service was deadly, while that of his teammate, Anderson, lacked precision and force. Turnbull was a tower of strength for the English pair with his net shots, invariably smashing for a kill when he got the ball at the net.

Woosnam showed better judgment than in his play Thursday and was especially successful in placing to the corners of the court.

Turnbull, the biggest man of the four, also was clever with his placements, keeping the Australians on the jump. The British took the last two games of the set, the final game being easy.

The second set was desperately played and tied up four times. The British used fine judgment in their team work in the early games and Turnbull kept up his cancanading at the net. The pair from the Antipodes played brilliantly in the last two games, which they won after the fifth game had gone to deuce, and won the set.

Seesaw Battle in This Set
The third set went to the British, 6-4, the play being close all the way. They won 30 points to the Australians' 28. The games alternated several times and two went to deuce. The Britishers appeared the stronger when one point was needed to win and managed to win by careful placement of corner shots.

The Australians completely outplayed their rivals in the fourth set. Woosnam was unable to match the speed of his teammate and his back court play was erratic. Turnbull's work was correct, but the Kangaroos, quickly finding their opponents' weak spot, played Woosnam most of the time. Anderson's placement shots were timed just right to make the necessary score. The British were able to take only the first and fifth games.

British Weary at Close
The players went into the last set realizing the match was at stake. Although all four were weary, the players were still able to rouse the gallery with some splendid rallies at the net. After the Australians had won five games the British braced and took a love set, but they were unable to hold the pace and the Australians, playing well, took the remaining games four points to one.

PEGGY 15 SINKS ON SECOND DAY'S EVENT PAGEANT OF PROGRESS

ON BOARD SUB CHASER 419—By Wireless Telephone to the Associated Press—Peggy, 15, speedboat owned by Fred Schram of Milwaukee, Wis., sank during the second event of Friday's races off the Municipal pier in connection with Chicago's Pageant of Progress. The crew was saved. Peggy 15 was the second boat to sink in the two days of racing. Miss Rosita going down Thursday.

The first race of the day, Class 151, was won by Miss Margaret III (L. E. Selby, Pekin, Ill.). Miss Quincy IV (C. E. Padgett, Quincy, Ill.) was second and Miss Peoria (N. A. Peterson, Moline, Ill.) was third. Miss Margaret III finished barely a second to the good.

Time for the five-mile dash, 10 minutes 2 seconds. In the second race, Class 705, ten miles, Mercer III was an easy first with Don's second, and B. E. II, third. Time slightly over ten minutes.

Weakness

He took with him his tender jaw—his vital spot. Before he left the draft from Bryan Downey's sock, his weakness hadn't been found. Wilson drops just like any other fighter when touched on the hinge-point.

Calling Wilson a cheese champion during his short reign was a mistake. He fights anything but a cheese fight. He looks like a champion in the ring. He boxes well and he punches well. The only flaw noticed in his workmanship in the Downey scrap was that he was particularly aggressive.

Greatness
Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Mary K. Browne are again playing like champions.

They are proving that it is possible to lay aside the tennis racket for an interval of years and then come back brilliantly.

Both women have changed much since they were last seen in big matches. Mrs. Bundy, rather robust at her greatest triumphs in 1905, now is slender and wiry.

Miss Browne has become stouter since her days of victories. While time has changed their stature, it does not seem to have altered their greatness on the courts.

Ambition
Pete Herman has made new boxing history in the last seven months. The New Orleans Italian has beaten three champions during his time, two by the ether route.

On January 15 he gave Jimmy Wilde, British flyweight champ, his first knockout. Two weeks ago he put away Jim Higgins, English bantam title holder.

July 15 he beat Champion Joe Lynch and regained his "derby."

Now Peterkin socks a bout with John Kilbane, featherweight high-muck-muck.

An ambitious kid, that!

Perhaps the Swiss also object to being left out of the naval disarmament party.

Many a man who acts like the main squeeze turns out to be a lemon.

PERISCOPE LOOMS AS NEXT WORLD CHAMPION TROTTERING STAR

By Dean Snyder
The trotting championship of the world will be decided at North Randall track, Cleveland, the week of July 8.

The stakes—largest of the year for the Grand Circuit—will be $15,000. Twenty-six candidates originally trained for the big stage event.

The list has been cut from 12 to 14 starters now.

Of them, J. L. Dodge's Periscope rules a 2 to 1 favorite.

She looms as one of the greatest mares of trotting history.

Untested Speed
Here real speed hasn't been tested.

The mare won her races at the first Grand Circuit meeting in Cleveland and at Toledo with ease. Her time was around 2:03.

After losing the first heat at Cleveland due to a break after having it won, she came back and won the other heats and the race, finishing in a jog.

At Toledo Periscope won in straight heats.

Although she has shown all the earmarks of a champion there are still some great horses for her to out-trot.

Periscope is a five-year-old. Ben White owned her along with Brusloff and Princess Blawh three years ago. He figured Periscope was the poorest of the lot and sold her to Dodge.

Now she has turned out to be the best—possibly a world champion.

Nedda Is Rival
Her greatest rival in the Randall event is expected to be Nedda, driven by Harry Fleming.

Nedda has wintered around New York and has raced little before the timer's watch this year.

A year ago the great Peter Manning, who is barred from the $15,000 race, had to clip the mile in 2:03 to beat her.

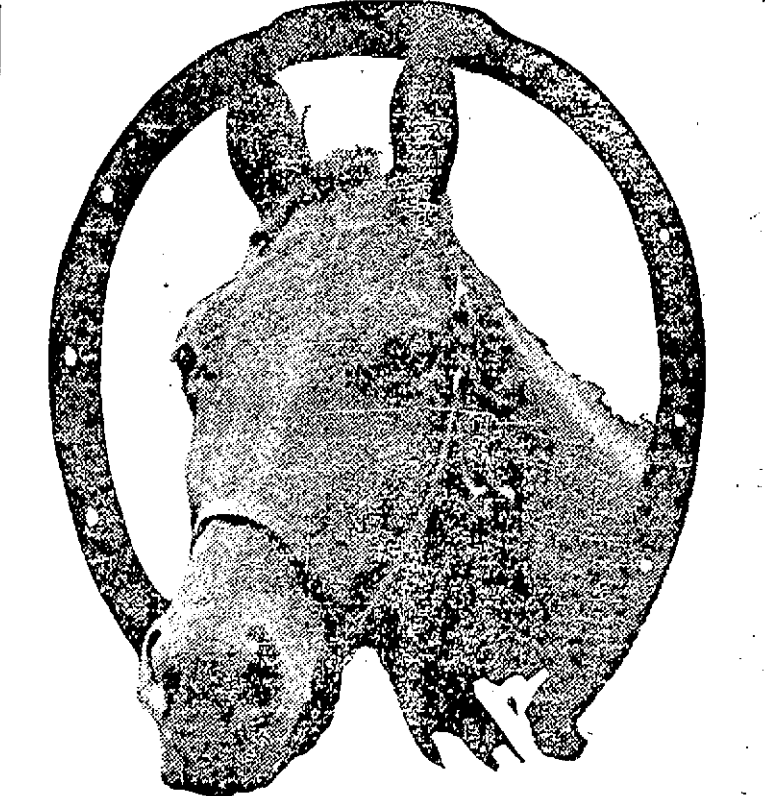

Nedda has two-minute speed and with Fleming, one of the best of drivers, behind her, may upset the hope on Periscope.

Walter Cox has entered three great horses. They are E. Colorado, Greyworthy and McGregor the Great. Two years ago McGregor the Great was practically unbeatable. He hasn't been started this year. E. Colorado has already won two Grand Circuit stakes. Greyworthy is a good horse, but is sometimes badly mannered.

Two other horses that may cause Periscope trouble are Ante Gay and Charley Rex of Tommy Murphy's stable. Both are known quantities in the trot and Murphy is always a favorite driver.

Other good horses scheduled to leave the post are: Harry Stokes, Peter Coley and Trumpton; W. R. McQuinn's Millie Irwin; Lon McDonald's Early Dreams; Mulloy's Pa-trick Todd; "Spec" Erskine's Arrior McKinney; and Mike McDevitt's Walnut Frisco.

But keep your eye on Periscope and Nedda—two great mares, either of which may make trotting history.

YANKEE YACHTS WIN 4TH RACE AT COWES FROM BRITISH CRAFT

America Wins Fourth International Yacht Race; British Defeated by Close Margin

COWES, Isle of Wight.—America won the fourth international yacht race here Friday, defeating the British entries by the close margin of 17 points to 16. Great Britain won the first three races.

The yachts finished in the following order: Grebe, America, first; Polly and Fra, Great Britain, second and third, respectively; Montauk and Genie, America, fourth and fifth, respectively; and Victoria, Great Britain, sixth. The British yacht Jeau and the American Sheila had trouble with their gears and abandoned the race.

Sir John Ward's Jean narrowly escaped sinking off Old Point, Castle during the race. A small sailing ship ran into the Jean and tore a hole in the port side eighteen inches long. The damaged yacht had to be towed in and docked. Sir Ralph Gore was steering the yacht at the time of the mishap.

The fourteen mile course was sailed in a hard southerly breeze. The start was not as good as in the third race, the yachts crossing the line in a string. With the prospect of the breeze hardening as the day wore on, the Jean, the Victoria, the Montauk, and the Sheila were double reefed, while the Grebe, the Genie, the Polly and the Fra were single reefed. The score in points now stands:

Great Britain, 79; America, 53.

Temperamental Travel
"Conductor" shouted a passenger on the back-country train. "That was my station, sir! Why didn't you stop?"

"We don't stop there any longer," said the conductor. "You see, the engineer is mad with the station agent!"—Youth's Companion.

BIG ALEX NOW CUBS' CHIEF FLYWHEEL

GROVER ALEXANDER
Grover Alexander is the flywheel of the Chicago Nationals.

He's the big Cub of the J. Evers' attraction.

Fans pay little attention to the standing of the team, knowing they're in the second depth, but they are posted on Big Alex and his moored doings.

Starting with a lame arm this spring he worked in only three games up to June 4.

Now his arm has regained its cunning and its strength of other great years, and he's out to win 30 games.

YEAR'S BEST
Gray Lag of the Ranocous stables stands out as the greatest runner of the year.

The horse won his eighth consecutive victory of the year by finishing a nose in the lead in the International Handicap at Windsor on July 30. The purse was $20,000.

However, Gray Lag doesn't lead the field by lengths. He is a winner but not another Man of War.
